

// ExO Expert

Soledad Llorente is a connector, passionate about breaking limits through innovation, people and exponential technologies.

She holds a double Master in Superior Engineering (Spain, France) complemented by an Executive MBA at IE Business School and an executive program in Innovation and Entrepreneurship at MIT.

Soledad is an experienced professional in Operations, Education and Change Management within an international environment in leading organizations such as Zara, Danone and L'Oréal. She has been a proud member of the ExO network since its foundation.

She teaches the Operations & Supply chain management and Exponential Transformation courses at IE University and IE Business School. She also mentors students participating in IESIDE's Exponential MBA Challenge.

Soledad
Llorente

A Coruña
Spain